

TUPE

...WHO SAYS IT'S BORING!

I can't stop myself.

Enough is enough.

Sadly, I've seen several comments recently suggesting that TUPE is boring, complicated, unnecessary or even something that should end up in Room 101!

Sorry but WHAT?? 🙄

No! Come on people.... you are totally missing out if that's your view.

Some of my best career moments have been working on business take-on projects....

- with sales teams pitching for business
- with service designers crunching the numbers
- with legal and procurement teams reviewing commercial contracts
- with transferring employees (Who've gone on to do brilliant things btw)
- with HR colleagues sharing knowledge
- oh, and with my Mum trying to explain what I do and correcting her pronunciation!

I mean, what is there not to LOVE about that??

OK, so if you still need convincing or want someone to help with a TUPE dilemma then you know who to call (...and it's not Ghostbusters!) 😊

And if you've heard the best pronunciation of "TUPE" then do share. We all need a giggle every now and again 😄
